FIFTEEN PERSONS HURT IN WRECK

C. & O. Fast Train Pulls in Two and Pullmans Turn Over on Embankment.

Fifteen people were injured, two of them so seriously they may not recover, when C. & O. train No. 1, F. E. V. Limited, running from Newport News and Washington to Chicago, left the track at a point a quarter of a mile east of Barboursville, W. Va., at 6:47 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The most seriously injured are Joshua C. Carter, prominent Huntington business man, who sustained a fractured skull, and H. T. Thomas of Woodstock, W. Va., a sailor in the U. S. Navy, who went on the train in charge of a party of four men en route to the United States hospital in Colorado, to which they were being sent from the naval hospital at Portsmouth for treatment for tuberculosis. In either of these cases fatal results would not be surprising. None of the others in the list of injured is likely to die.

Terrible as it was the accident was remarkable in that it did not cause the death of a score or more passengers as three Pullmans, each well filled with passengers, left the track and turned over completely before they landed at the bottom of an 18-foot embankment. The day coach did not turn over, but both trucks left the rails, while only the rear truck of the combination car was derailed, the locomotive remaining in position.

The train was running on schedule time, of course, and was going at a rate of about 25 miles an hour according to the judgment of engineer W. A. Flentrop. East of Barboursville, rounding about a three-degree curve, the cars jumped the track without warning. The engine went over the track on which the accident occurred without a sign of trouble. The cause of the accident is still undetermined.

E. T. Morris, contractor and former C. & O. engineer, is one of the injured. He is not seriously hurt.

Mr. Carter's condition is precarious and it is considered that he has no better than an even chance in his fight against death. He was in the smoking room of the Pullman on which he was returning from a trip from the east, where he had been buying goods when the blow fell. He had put on his overcoat, preparatory doubtless, to getting off at Huntington, and had fallen on his head striking it against some dark-like object which drove its way into his head, making a hole about the size of a nickel and leaving the bone pressing against the brain.

Mr. Carter is president of the corporation of J. T. Carter & Company, the Huntington Wharf & Storage Company, and has extensive banking and financial interests in the city. He has been prominent in politics and in church circles, being a member of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church. He is a Shriner and a Scottish Rite Mason.

Another Huntington who was injured was J. H. Blackwood who sustained three broken ribs and a cut head. He was in the wash room and had just completed his morning toilet when the accident occurred.

There were frantic scenes about the train after the cars were derailed. The passengers were frightened greatly, and their first thought was of the danger of fire. This was natural, for the cars were all "dead," and besides were of steel affording little opportunity for fire. Frightened as they were, they did not cry out, but instead, an instant after they had righted themselves the uninjured and many of the slightly injured went frantically to work to get the others from beneath the wreckage, which was piled high to be pressing the life out of them.

Persons came from miles around for examination by the physicians. The clinic received every assistance and co-operation from the physicians of Knott county, who met the party upon their arrival.

REGARDING THE DEATH OF MRS. MARTHA FERGUSON.

The editor of the NEWS has received the following personal letter from Mr. L. B. Ferguson regarding the death of his mother:

"Williamburg, Va., Oct. 17.—With a sorrowful heart I have to tell you of the death of my mother last Monday, October 12, at the home of my sister, Mrs. L. B. Suddith, Gwynns Island, Mathews county, Virginia. She had been in failing health for a year but had not been confined to her bed but a few weeks before her death, and she lived until today she would have been 77 years old. As you know, my sister and myself are her only surviving children. She has 9 grand-children and 3 great-grand-children. Since leaving Louisa she has made her home with my sister. She was a member of the Baptist Church and of late years had taken an active part in the work of the church. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. J. D. France, of that church, and the remains were interred in a vault in Gwynns Island cemetery. Later they will be removed to Fairview, just back of Cassville, and buried beside my father. As to her life in Kentucky you already know."

"Kindly remember me to all my old friends. With best wishes, I am,

She invited nearly two score of her young friends to assist her in the proper observance of such an auspicious event. Their presence and good wishes and the many good things to eat combined to make the occasion a very pleasant one. The tokens of remembrance ranged in kind from pictures to ponies and were as numerous as they were varied.

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 23.—The Big Bend Coal Co. has let a contract for construction of two and one-half miles of railroad around the Hatfield curve near Matewan, McDowell county. It is reported that the Steel corporation is back of the movement to improve coal properties in that vicinity under the direction of General Edward O'Toole, of Gary.

S. engineer office. The cash price paid for the property by the Board of Education is $5,000.

It is said that Mr. Lackey will vacate in a short time and that the school, which is now taught in the Muscatine Hall, will at once be moved to the recent neophyte, where it will be conducted as now by Mr. J. B. McClure. It is said that as soon as necessary changes are completed seven boarding pupils will be received into the school.

BIG SANDY NEWS.

Aut inveniam viam, aut faciam.

LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, OCTOBER 30, 1914.

THE COUNTY AGENT AND THE FARMER.

HEAVY ORDERS NOW COMING IN Europe Has Begun to buy Large Quantities of Goods in the United States.

The following articles are taken from the Cincinnati Enquirer, which recently publishes such facts. The Enquirer always fights the Democratic administration, but is unusually bitter this year:

New York, Oct. 27. That well-known yell of secrecy now being lifted is revealing that the war orders which have been coming into this country are reaching stupendous figures. There has been an increase of exports, to be sure, but before long the figures will show a movement in American made goods which will be startling.

It is estimated by one well-known financial authority, on the basis of agreements with foreign agents in several of the large banks, that orders have been given for American goods within the last month which amount to at least $200,000,000. It has in the last week or so been nothing unusual with banks having large foreign connections to pay out $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 a day on behalf of various bustling commissioners.

Most of the goods are going to neutral ports, of course, but there are numerous evidences as to what their ultimate destination is. How complex are the wants of even peoples at war are well illustrated by the invoices of merchandise which are being from time to time consigned to Sweden, to Italy, to Holland, to England and to Russia. Spot cash is the rule for these transactions, and after the goods are shipped this country ceases to worry about them. They have been paid for and the new owner does the worrying.

Figures given out today at the Custom House reveal that exports from New York last week represented $21,337,337, the greatest value for any week since March 21, and nearly 20 per cent in excess of shipments a year ago. Only four times this year have exports added more to the commercial credits of the country than last week. As yesterday's exports reached the new high record figure of $6,183,812, the final week of the month promises to establish another record. One reason for the big shipment was that more ships were to be had than previously.

New York, Oct. 27. The distinctly more cheerful sentiment which spread throughout thousand circles yesterday continued to prevail today. With the election out of the way, however, it is believed that the optimistic sentiment that has been growing stronger and brighter will be converted into activity in the local market.

One of the best indications of the improving situation is the German demand for cotton. It was reported today that several hundred thousand bales had been purchased for that country in the United States. At $35 a bale the cost will approximate $7,000,000. In substantiation of these reports a Galveston dispatch says the steamer steamer Rhinebeck will sail from there for Bremen next month with 10,000 bales. Nearly 10,000 bales were exported today from Savannah to Copenhagen.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 27. Reports indicate that a number of mills in this city already feel the effects of an increased demand in excess of the war in Europe. The Sterling Mills are running at full capacity, being said to have sold their entire output of broad cloths up to February. A number of looms have been running during the night at the plant of the Talbot Mills North Ullericia, and the outlook is said to be bright.

This is upheld by the court, the Prison Commissioners will adopt a plan for bringing the convicts to work on roads, and as next spring when the road-working season opens, they will give the plan a thorough tryout.

The first of this month, as the petition recites, the Fiscal Court of Lawrence county, made demand on the State Board of Prison Commissioners for twenty able-bodied male prisoners confined in the Frankfort Reformatory and requested that this number be detailed to the said Lawrence county under proper guard to be worked on a public road, which road comes under the provisions of the act of 1914 as a public State highway and public works of the Commonwealth; that after having given due consideration to the request made by the Fiscal Court of Lawrence county, and after having given due consideration to the terms and conditions, the said board entered an order directing the warden to send twenty able-bodied male prisoners to Lawrence county, under proper guard to be worked upon said public roads. The warden refused to comply with the directions of the board on the ground that in his opinion he had no right to work prisoners on the public roads."

The board has for some time been furnishing horses for military purposes to the British government. The Eastern, Southern and Middle Western sections of the United States will furnish more horses than the far West, because the horses in these sections are broken and ready for use as soon as handed in Europe. Texas could furnish twice as many horses if horses in that state were saddle and bridle broken.

The NEWS has been requested to make a statement about the cancellation of this appointment.

SUNDAY.

The imminent arming of the belligerent Powers are still fighting ceaselessly on the line extending from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier, without prospect of an early decision. At sea the navies of the Allies are reported to have inflicted great loss on the Germans and to have suffered little themselves.

The protest of the United States against the seizure by British warships of American oil ships was the subject of a ministerial conference in London, but no decision was reached. In Washington private letters state that one big shipment of fuel oil from the United States found its way from Copenhagen to the German aerial and naval base at Kiel. A German submarine was rammed and sunk by the British destroyer Banker off the Dutch coast.

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.G. W. Castle, of Lawrence county, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District, primary election in August 1915, earnestly requesting the support of all Democrats of the district.We are authorized to announce JOHN M. WAUGH as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary of August 1915.We are authorized to announce W. D. O'NEAL, JR., as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge of the 32nd Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.We are authorized to announce JUDGE M. M. REDWINE as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the district composed of Lawrence, Elliott, Carter and Morgan counties, subject to the action of the Democrats in the primary election the first Saturday in August, 1915.Remember the election on next Tuesday, Nov. 3rd.Thus A. Edison, the great inventor, predicts great prosperity for American industry at the close of hostilities in Europe.It is charged that many Republican plants throughout the country are being closed for effect on the voters at the election next week.Lieut. Gov. Cox drew $5,000 from the State treasury for serving as Governor while Augustus Wilson was out of the State which shows that Cox spent nearly one year out of four away from his duties at Frankfort.The Peace Policy of the President would alone entitle him to the support of every Democrat that loves his country. A vote for Governor Beckham and Senator Camden is as direct an endorsement of Woodrow Wilson as if the President himself had been voted for.The Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky has sent out a letter to the ministers of Kentucky stating that the liquor interests are lined up behind Gus Wilson for the United States Senate as against Beckham. They call temperance people to rally to the support of Mr. Beckham.The Democratic party presents to the suffrage of the people of Kentucky and this district this fall three men who are worthy and well qualified for the places for which they stand. J. C. W.
Beckham for the long term for the Senate, Johnson N. Camden for the short term, and Wm. J. Fields for Congress. The stand head and shoulders above their Republican opponents and will be elected by a large majority.Judge O'Ren, who was the Republican nominee for Governor three years ago, has openly denounced Gus Wilson, the Republican nominee for the Senate as unworthy of the support of any honest Republican. He has refused to take the stump for Wilson and he is privately informing his Republican and Progressive friends that their most sacred duty to their party and state is to retire Wilson to private life forever.If you are in favor of the Peace Policy of President Wilson which has put the United States first in the vanguard of nations, vote for Governor Beckham and Senator for the United States Senate, and W. J. Fields for Congress, because when they get to Washington they will support the President. Without a Democratic majority in the Senate, President Wilson would have all his plans blocked by Republicans who are doing their utmost to embarrass him and wreck his administration.While the republicans and progressives are dividing the republican vote and the election of the Democratic nominees seem certain, it will not do to take anything for granted in a political contest. The republicans as a rule vote early and often and it becomes the Democratic voters to go to the polls and cast their votes for the nominees. That is the only way to make victory sure. More political battles are lost by over-confidence than from any other cause.F. Tom Hatcher is making a warm fight for Congress in the Tenth district and has a good chance to win.After nineteen months of continuous session, Congress adjourned last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The cotton Senators abandoned the fight for legislation at this session to aid the Southern planters.L. K. Vinson, the Democratic nominee for State Senate in the district just across the river from this county, has made a thorough canvass of the district and feels confident of winning.He has always been active in politics and this is the first race he has made.
Lafayette has many friends both inside and outside of the party who will be glad to see him win.Congressman W. J. Fields has given the people of his district as faithfully as any member of the Lower House of Congress. He is sober, honest, earnest, and right on the job at the time. He has voted for all the good laws enacted and against all the bad ones offered. He was the author of one of the most important sections of the new currency laws. Vote for him next Tuesday.Governor McCreary made a splendid speech for the Democratic nominees at the opening at Somerset and he will be heard on the stump the last week of the campaign in behalf of the whole ticket. The governor has never lost his hold on the Democratic masses.
They have always found him honest, able and courageous. His prompt and hearty support of Governor Beckham proved that he never lets personal or political difference interfere with his duty to his party.Governor Beckham has shown himself to be a great campaigner. Although he has been on the stump continuously for nearly six months in the primary contest, after a few weeks rest he began his campaign as democratic nominee for the Senate and has never missed a day or an hour. He is in the very prime of life with his physical and intellectual powers unimpaired. His whole life has been devoted to the study of public questions and he will take his seat in the Senate thoroughly equipped for his important duties. The Democrats of Kentucky not only honor Governor Beckham, but they have a deep affection for him.Secretary of State Bryan's visit to Kentucky has served to arouse the state democracy to the importance of the November election. He has made it very clear that praise of President Wilson's policies counts for nothing unless the voters who command him go to the polls and vote for the democratic candidates in the Senate and in the House who will continue to vote with the President. This is not a one-man government, although Woodrow Wilson has the ability to run it single-handed. He must have democratic majorities in both Houses or the great work that he has undertaken for the reform of the currency and the revival of business will prove a failure.Secretary of State Bryan's visit to

THE GRIDIRON.

On Saturday last the Hessians of Ashland moved in force upon the allies of Fort Gay and Louisa under General Sommons, on the plain west of this city. The result was the total rout of the allied forces and the serious wounding of several genuine hearts.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

On Tuesday Oct. 13, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Christian, of Trice, Butler district, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Elaborate preparations for the entertainment of friends had been made and a tasty dinner such as the good cooks of that neighborhood are capable of preparing, was spread and enjoyed to the fullest extent by those present, which numbered more than fifty and would have been greater had the weather been fair. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Christian, Silas Christian and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lester. To these good parents have been born three sons, Luke, Scott and Callahan, they and their families being in attendance. Many costly presents were given, which were received cheerfully and many a kind word was said at the parting that afternoon.—Wayne News.

The ballot commissioners refused to place the independent Democratic ticket containing the name of B. F. Booton as a candidate for Clerk of the County Court on the ballot when they met to make up the ballot for the election to be held November 3. Mr. Booton secured an attorney and went before the supreme court and a writ of mandamus was issued compelling the ticket to be placed on the ballot, or directing the commissioners to appear at the next session of the supreme court to be held at Wheeling the 27th inst. and show cause why they did not do so.—Wayne News.

Telephone Courtesy

The people who get the greatest amount of good out of their telephone are those who talk over it as though face to face.

Courtesy smooths out difficulties and promotes the promptest possible connections.

The operators of the BELL System are trained to be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet with patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The fact that you cannot see the operator or the other party should not cause you to overlook this. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

An Engaged Couple Try to Impose on Each Other's Relatives

round friend was so urged that I at last consented. Then he brought out some fine Havana cigars and proposed that we go into the smoking compartment of the car for a smoke. Again I objected, for if a whisky breath is bad in whisky and tobacco breath is worse. But a smoke after a drink is especially enjoyable, so again I yielded.

After our smoke my companion proposed a game of whist et in, to which I assented, and the luck, being on my side, when the train rolled into the station where we were to alight I had taken $6 from my antagonist. He didn't complain, nor did I ask me to meet him again for his service, being first as cheery at the parting as he had been at the meeting.

I found Mr. Springer's car at the station and, getting in, was whisked to his home. When I arrived I was told that he was not at home, but was expected soon. I was shown to a room where I made a toilet, taking care to use some aromatic tooth powder I had with me to destroy the odor of whisky and tobacco on my breath. I also divested myself of my traveling suit, which was saturated with tobacco smoke. Having got us well rid as possible of these trifles, I went down into the library, where I found an evening paper.

I was engrossed in the paper when, hearing a footstep I looked up and great was my astonishment. A man stood before me with a benign smile on his face, and who should he be but the person who had sought my acquaintance on the train and whom I had relieved of $6. He offered his hand and said:

"I am glad to see you, my dear boy. I can tell you at once that I heartily approve of you. We can't trust one another in this world when we are warned, so I concluded to take you another time."

"But I thought you were—"

"So I am in business and among women and children, but I know what a young man is, for I've been one myself. So I concluded to go back to the days of my wild oats and see you as you are, not as you would pretend to be. I'm very fond of my uncle and wish her to marry him, not a sniveling, driveling fellow who pretends to goodness while his intentions are otherwise. I have found you perfectly honorable and you played a fair game. I'll say this, even if you did relieve me of my money. Come to dinner."

Mr. Springer did not let me go for several days. He was not the man he had been on the train, but was no prude. He was much engrossed in lawyers cut from cloth. He was

You men are very—"

A few days after my return I received a telephone message from Aunt Kate that I was to fetch Edith to her house for dinner and to spend the evening. On the evening in question I called for Edith, and she said that she would try to undo the impression she had made upon my aunt. I told her that she would better not herself and not try to—

"Aunt Kate was very shrewd and not to be fooled."

We found our guest got up in her extremely decollete and flesh costume, with plenty of ornament. She gave Edith a smile and warmly pressed my hand, trying to know if she had been so different upon the subject of her call. I entered

What a relief, both to me and to Edith! And how happy we were at having so successfully passed the ordeal required. But we had done nothing to further the issue. Edith's uncle and my aunt had taken pains to see we were not and as we were, pretended.

Evening Tide.

TO THE CHILDREN OF AMERICA.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." St. Matt. New, xxv. 40.

One of Chicago greatest papers, The Herald, is to be commended for starting the ball to rolling which will gather up the most useful, most needed and most sensible Christmas gifts which have ever been distributed since Santa Claus began to make his annual visit to the children of men. As this is of interest to every home we feel that the Home Circle Column could not be put to better use this week than by giving a description of the enterprise as it appears in the Chicago Herald, the paper which originated the scheme and is now carrying it out to a successful ending. It says:

"And you must have some toys that have outgrown their charm for you. Send them. Then there is another thing you can do. Ask father and mother to beg Santa Claus to give to a boy or girl to Europe one of the gifts that is intended for you."

"Yes, I hear you say, 'I will be Santa Claus to those poor little orphan children.' And then you ask: 'But how can my gift reach the child that needs it?' By the train and by the boat and by the train again. And then you say again: 'But the papers say that English ships and French ships and German ships all armed with cannon will stop the boat carrying MY gift.' They will not."

"English and French and Germany intend to blockade the boat that is carrying your gift not to stop it. Your ship will be a ship of Good Will. It will be Santa Claus' ship. And all the countries at war will dip their flags to it as such."

"All you have to do is to provide the gifts. The Chicago Herald will look after all other details. It will answer your questions. Write to the Christmas Ship Editor for help. It will see that your gift reaches the boat that will take it to Europe. It will see that your gift is put into hands which will place it in the brotherhood home on Christmas morning. And it will tell every day all about what other boys and girls in our country are doing in this work of love."

"For these beloved children there will be no Kris Kringle. His sleigh bells will not jingle on the frosty air in the Black Forest, and the untrodden paths by the good saint's galloping reindeer. Stockings will hang limp and empty in many a French cottage and the smoky chimneys of England will know him not. No call for little Jane and her red mittens or Brother John. No soldiers will red and shivering, that Karl had hoped for! Oh, what a mockery at this Christmas!"

"Let each little boy and each little girl be a Kris Kringle. Isn't that a fine thought? Wouldn't you love to be that great saint? Wouldn't you love to put your gifts in a sleigh and take the reins in your hands and drive the reindeers over the roofs of the houses, slipping down the chimney and leaving YOUR gifts for those who badly need them?"

"Can you do it? Of course you can. You can help load the sleigh and you can shut your eyes and feel the reins in your fingers and drive the reindeer up and down the lanes in England, lined with thatch-roofed cottages, thru the vineyards of France and the stately fields of Belgium, across the whitemantled stretches of Russia, up and down the highways of Germany, over the hills of Austria and along the frozen Danube to the Servian peasant's hut, stopping to leave a surprise—catch-the-breath—surprise for your little brother and sister whose father is dead."

"You may live to be a hundred years old, you may travel all over the world and see wonders and delights, but never will you have such a journey as that."

"How can you do all this?"

"Just in the easiest kind of way, but you've got to do it yourself to get the real joy of it. Earn money to buy the presents or make them yourself. Every boy knows how to earn money so he may go to the circus. Ask father to let you split the kindling, carry in the coal, carry out the ashes, look after the furnace and make him pay for it. Save the pennies that are given you for candy. Pay yourself something."

"If you are a girl couldn't you knit a pair of gloves or socks or comforters? Wouldn't it be good to know that the gloves are keeping warm a pair of little hands like yours?" Wouldn't it be nice to know that the comforters are covering frosty ears and protecting delicate throats?"

"And you must have some toys that have outgrown their charm for you. Send them. Then there is another thing you can do. Ask father and mother to beg Santa Claus to give to a boy or girl to Europe one of the gifts that is intended for you."

"Yes, I hear you say, 'I will be Santa Claus to those poor little orphan children.' And then you ask: 'But how can my gift reach the child that needs it?' Suffered Twenty-One Years--
Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time, I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a blue red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE,

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true to substance and in fact.

MARTIN COUNTY AND INEZ NEWS.What the People are Doing in that Section of the State.

The Rockcastle Lumber Co. is closing down its lumber yards and job of work after this week. They will not begin work again till April 15.

Attorneys W. H. Preece and Jos. M. Finley have just returned from a week in Cincinnati, where they have been looking after business interests.

Business in this county is very quiet at the present writing.

The Big Bill End Gas Co. is active at present & is expecting to "strike" two good gas wells any day.

Sam Cridler, lumberman, is carrying on the only saw-mill job that is being carried on in this county, with the exception of the Rockcastle Lumber Co.

The "Old Guard" is driven off the street for a few days by the cold wave. They spend the major part of their time in watching the bridge-builders constructing the immense steel bridge over Rockcastle Creek. They are "on hand" constantly and are profuse with suggestions and warnings. Their conduct is very graphically depicted in the following humorous poem, "The Bridge Commissioners."

The "Bridge Commissioners."

These are busy days in Izee, Martin county's pretty seat. They're spanning Rockcastle's waters with a bridge that's hard to beat. If you miss familiar faces, Or the "Old Guard" you would seek, You'll find they're superintendin' Down at Rockcastle Creek.

They gather early morn for roll-call At the well-known rendezvous; And after they have all reported, And each member gets his chew, With hauteur far from meek— For they are "Bridge Commissioners."

"Big Bill" is the master builder, And he's always at his post; As he is not a "regular member," He acts as the "Old Guard's" host. He tells of the work in detail, With figures his brain mustreck.
